TIMBER WORKERS' CRISIS MEETING

Wombat Forest
INFORMATION NIGHT

The Wombat Forest Society invites all current and retired timber workers of the Wombat to a meeting to look at the facts and figures.

Will you still have a job in five years, or will Midway and CSR have taken all the young trees which would have grown into sawlogs one day?

Statistics can be twisted, but the eye of a camera doesn't lie, and the brand new satellite image map of the Wombat Forest shows that soon, the timber just won't be there.

TWO ADMISSIONS:

1. The Ballarat Head of DCNR when asked in a meeting two weeks ago how many years of logging were left in the Wombat, said: "We can get timber from elsewhere in the Midlands."

2. The owner of a very large sawmill fed from the best quality trees in the Wombat admitted to a Daylesford councillor recently that: "No, there won't be continuing work from Wombat sawlogs, there'll be a gap."

These blokes are pocketing the short-term money, while the real workers are being hoodwinked.
