Earthworker member organisations

National Union of Students
Construction, Forestry, Mining and Energy Union
(Construction Division)
Electrical Trades Union
Australian Manufacturing Workers Union
Australian Nurses Federation
Australian Services Union-Private Sector Division
Rail Tram Union
National Tertiary Education Union
Nuclear Disarmament Party
Australian Society for Kangaroos
Wilderness Society
Friends of the Earth
Concerned Residents of East Gippsland
Environment Victoria
The Greens
RMIT Student Union

EARTHWORKER

unions and greens working towards a socially just and sustainable society

NO JOBS ON A DEAD PLANET TOUR

11 – 16 NOVEMBER 1999

TO FIND OUT MORE CONTACT EARTHWORKER
EVATT ROOM TRADES HALL LYGON ST CARLTON STH
PO BOX 285 CARLTON STH 3053
9639 7688 www.earthworker.org.au

"the choice is not between jobs and environment. it's between both or neither"

Danish Workers Union, 1996

The no jobs on a dead planet tour is an initiative of Earthworker – the all union green caucus. Earthworker is a forum made up of member organisations, including unions, environmental groups, alternative business and supportive individuals. It is the aim of Earthworker to build a working alliance of the union and green movements.

The no jobs on a dead planet tour will confront and begin the process of undermining the divisive 'jobs versus environment' debate. It is Earthworker's belief that when workers and environmentalists fight each other, we only maintain the status quo rather than working towards an environmentally and socially sustainable future.

The tour will begin with launching various joint projects of unions and greens – with some comedy thrown in. These activities build up to the official launch of the no jobs on a dead planet tour, where prominent Kooris, Unionists and Greens will initiate a dialogue about the political and ecological necessity of an approach that brings together jobs, the environment and indigenous rights.

No jobs on a dead planet tour is only the beginning. Unions, Greens and Kooris working together, building on commonalities, yet recognising differences. We may spark a fire – that of a socially just and sustainable society.

no jobs on a dead planet tour

Superannuation forum

Thursday 11 November 4-6pm Ballroom, Trades Hall
Bringing together union secretaries (super board representatives), environmentalists, ethical investors and bankers to explore investment for sustainability and jobs.

Rod Quantok Green Bans tour

Sunday 14 November 1pm Old Ballroom, Trades Hall
Comedian Rod Quantok leads a bicycle tour through Melbourne to visit buildings/places saved during the BLF's 'Green Ban' campaign of the 1970s.

Launch of the Solar, Wind and Water Industry Plan

Monday 15 November 12pm Electrical Trades Union of Australia
516 - 520 Swanston Street Carlton South
ETU, AMWU, green scholars and activists have been working on a plan to create jobs and sustainable energy. The launch of a new initiative in wind and solar hot water, agreed on by unions, industry, municipalities and green organisations.

Launch of the no jobs on a dead planet tour

Tuesday 16 November 7pm New Council Chamber, Trades Hall
Prominent unionists, greens and Kooris launch a jobs and environment dialogue.